If you have been searching for a more evolved horsemanship method, if you want to take your skills and your relationship with your horse to a deeper level, then it is time to step into the next generation of horsemanship. Step into the world of renowned Equine Specialist and Natural Horsemanship clinician Anna Twinney.

The Holistic Horsemanship Experience - The Next Step with Anna Twinney, Sunday, June 28, 2015 - 9am - 6pm

Reach Out to Horses is the most unique and comprehensive equine training program in the world. Yes... we know... we already said that. But during this full, hands-on, info-packed day, you will find out why.

Anna will introduce you to some of the most important elements in creating a trust-based relationship and training program with your horse and getting the results you've always wanted but haven't necessarily been able to achieve.

First she will take you through the benefits of her exclusive Trust-Based Leadership and Compassionate Communication (T.L.C.) practice. Say goodbye to frustration, struggle, confusion, misunderstanding, flaring tempers, fear and anxiety for both you and your horse. Instead, welcome to a new way of thinking, a new way of being, a new way of horsemanship.

With just a little T.L.C., you can set your horse up for success and achieve that connection of grace and ease you've always imagined.

Using Anna's TLC methods you will explore:

- Understanding the importance of intimacy and relaxation exercises and how to use them correctly
- Overcoming your horse's challenging habits and behavior patterns
- Preparing your young horse for his first saddle, bridle and rider
- Desensitizing your horse to common situations and tack
- Preparing your horse for doctoring and medical examinations/emergencies
- Earning your horse's trust and learning how to continue to gain and build that trust
- Reading your horse's mood, personality, character, likes & dislikes, and more
- Creating a toolbox to foster that perfect connection on a daily basis
- And much more!

Overcoming Obstacles In-Hand and In the Saddle

From there, after lunch, you will build on the skills you learned in the morning as Anna shares one of her secrets to learning the language of Equus, connecting with your horse, and have a whole lot of fun in the process. You will learn the use of the obstacle course, an extremely valuable but rarely applied tool. Working in an obstacle course is a safe and effective way to familiarize yourself and your horse with the challenges of the trail or arena before riding. Anna developed the Obstacle Course over 15 years ago, and since then thousands of her students from all over the world have worked with the course for myriad uses.

You will learn how to apply this safe and effective training approach to solve all sorts of problems and determine your horse's learning style. From preparing horses for the trail, engaging school and therapeutic riding horses, through to establishing a communication system with performance horses and even honoring the needs of the retirees, Anna will show you how to read the subtleties of your horse's body language, direct your horse without touching him, as well as understand just how horses reflect your true authenticity.

Anna will show you how to not only give your horse a voice, but, just as imperative, also understand what he is saying.

Then you'll do it again, except this time from the saddle! You will discover how all that you learned for the entire day applies to your riding and how it can make you more responsive, give you more clarity in your communication, and make you a better, more sure rider.

If you are interested in creating or strengthening that genuine partnership join Anna for a day of fun and freedom with your horse.

Participation on this day of horsemanship is limited to only a small group of people and it will sell out fast, so don't delay or you will miss it!

Only $200 if you register by May 15, 2015, $225 after.
